Practice Administration Masterclass Webinar Q&A

Does Merlin integrate with any Business Intelligence platforms?

Not currently, although any suggestions and requests are very much welcome. For some practice's reporting purposes a regular data extract would be appropriate. Please speak to your BDM about setting this up

We are a big practice struggling to consistently send our cashing up docs to our main site. Would the new till takings help us?

Yes, this works especially well for large sites with their own ftp servers to collect the data sent in from branches. Speak to your BDM for further information.

Is there a quicker way to bring up regularly used custom reports in report wizard?

Yes, these can be saved once you have filled in all the search requirements. Click on the Save button and fill in the name and description. To load previous searches, click on load and this will show you the saved searches.
